

Thursday, 31 October 2013

MEDIA RELEASE

---

Workshop to help trace family history

---

Members of the community with an interest in tracing their family history are invited to take the first steps in an exciting new journey of discovery at a Family History Workshop being held at the Bland Shire Library on Thursday, November 19.

Hosted by the Wyalong District Family History Group and Bland Shire Library, this is the second year the workshop has been held following a positive response to last year's inaugural event.

Participants will have an opportunity to use Ancestry, a world wide family history database, and also discover many of the other resources that are readily available to family history buffs.

The workshop runs from 10.30am through until noon and members of the Family History Group will be available on the day to answer family history questions.

People are encouraged to confirm their attendance by phoning the library on 6979 0272.

For more information contact
Community Relations Officer

Craig Sutton

Phone (02) 6972 2266 or council@blandshire.nsw.gov.au

