Our Towns and Villages

Barmedman

Barmedman is a village of the Bland Shire and is situated 35 kilometres south east of West Wyalong.

Barmedman is located at the half-way point en-route to Temora.

With a population of 230 people Barmedman is famous for the mineral pool, which originated from the flooding of the Barmedman goldmines by an underground stream in the 1880's. The pool is situated on a four-hectare reserve, is run by locals and is said to have some healing properties due to its high mineral content.

Mirrool

Mirrool is located 46km South of West Wyalong on the Newell Highway. Mirrool is the home of the Mirrool Silo Kick, a hotly contested football kicking competition held on the 2nd Saturday in October each year.

The area has a colourful history of settlement consisting of squatters and bushrangers. Community members wishing to save their local watering hole purchased the charming old-style Mirrool Hotel, which remains the social hub of the village.

There is a small park with a well-equipped child play area and a local camp site.

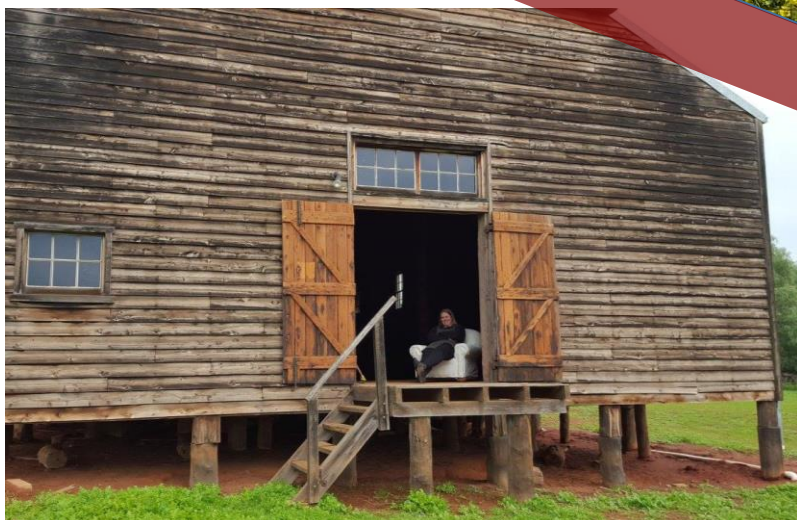

Naradhan

Naradhan is a small township with strong agricultural origins.

The fully restored Naradhan Historic Woolshed built in 1888 can be seen from the main road and is one of the last great woolsheds in the region.

Visits to the woolshed can be made by appointment on 02 6896 9802.

Tallimba

Tallimba is a village of the Bland Shire and is situated 35 kilometres south west of West Wyalong. The town has approximately 30 residents with the local farming communities surrounding the township increasing this number to 149 people.

Tallimba Public School caters for students in kindergarten to year 6 and a visiting playgroup operates in the community. A bus service to West Wyalong operates to transport secondary students to schools. There are also a variety of different sporting facilities, including tennis and cricket.

Although it is a small village, Tallimba has much to offer which makes it a great place to live and visit.

Lorraine Williams Photography

Ungarie

Ungarie is a village of the Bland Shire and is situated 42 kilometres North West of West Wyalong on the way to Lake Cargelligo. The village has a population of 335 residents and a farming community also supporting the village.

The town has the Humbug Creek running through it, which when full, provides a luscious surrounding. There are many things to do and see in Ungarie, which makes it a great environment to live in and visit. There are several businesses in Ungarie, offering accommodation, dining, pub and club facilities as well as essential services.

The town boasts a range of community organisations and also has a strong sporting presence with great facilities such as a bowling club, tennis courts, swimming pool and a football oval. Ungarie is also home to "The Big Footy", an attraction dedicated to the Danihers and their sporting achievements.

Weethalle

Weethalle is a small farming community in the Bland Shire and is situated 58 kilometres West of West Wyalong on the Mid Western Highway.

Weethalle has a population of 284, which is increased by surrounding farm populations. Weethalle boasts several attractions including the first completed silo art project in NSW which was officially opened on 1 July 2017.

The town is also famous for the Weethalle Whistlestop, which is an historic train station, first opened on the 8 January 1923. The station has been restored and now runs as a tea-room and craft shop.

West Wyalong

Gold was discovered at Wyalong in September 1893 by Joseph Neeld. In 1895 West Wyalong was developed 5 kilometres from Wyalong around the bullock track, without the benefit of town planning, resulting in curious kinks in the road where it avoided trees and buildings. As well as the mines, the White Tank water supply was located here. This is now the location of McCann Park. The goldfield was declared the most productive in the colony in 1899.

As mining declined, West Wyalong became the main service centre for agriculture in the surrounding district, although for many years there was rivalry between the towns. Both towns wanted the Temora railway line but settled on a compromise of a station midway between the two towns, called Wyalong Central.

Wyalong

Wyalong is located 4.4 kilometres from West Wyalong and is a historic town from the late gold rush years of the 1890's. In 1894 the government agreed to survey a town that would support the increasing growth resulting from the gold rush to this area. The location of the town was subject to disagreement between the government officials and the miners, who favoured a site on the western side of the diggings.

Wyalong was initially planned to be the business and residential headquarters of the region and was established in grand style with the construction of government buildings, such as a courthouse, police station, the local council hall and six hotels.

Many of the miners refused to relocate their establishments to Wyalong and as a result forced a survey of the occupied areas and the establishment of West Wyalong.

Development since the 1970s has expanded Wyalong in the direction of West Wyalong with several motels built at Central Wyalong.

A shared bicycle and pedestrian track were constructed in 1994 to link Wyalong with West Wyalong.

In 2013, the community of Bland joined Dull, Perthshire, Scotland and Boring, Oregon, USA as part of the "League of Extraordinary Communities" now known as Bland, Dull and Boring.

Culture

The Bland Shire has a blooming cultural community providing both residents and visitors the opportunity to become immersed in the rich local history and culture.

The Bland Shire showcases a vast array of local artistic talent, including the Exclusive Hot Glass Gallery in Neeld Street Wyalong and the local Splatter Art Gallery in West Wyalong's Main Street which hosts classes, workshops and art exhibitions.

Bland Shire is rich in history, culture and art.

From the stunning Weethalle Silo art to Mirrool's Horsing Around mural not forgetting the biggest football in Australia and the many murals and sculptures in West Wyalong, there is art to be admired for every age group.

Local artists' work is also on display with glass making, painting, drawing, photography, sculpture and much more, at different outlets within the Bland Shire.

The West Wyalong Town Band and Town Choir perform at various community events and always welcome new members while

Council conducts a series of cultural events and activities throughout the year which in the past have included live music and theatre performances, exhibitions and guest presenters.

The annual West Wyalong show is held in September and is a popular event with both children and adults. Ungarie, Barmedman and Weethalle also hold annual shows.

Contact details of cultural and community organisations within the Bland Shire are available in Council's Business and Community Guide.

There are numerous heritage listed buildings in the Shire, as well as several museums showcasing the Shire's rich cultural heritage. The Wyalong Museum is housed in the historic old Wyalong Court House and exhibits a collection of early objects which portray our local history. The purpose-built shed displays machinery that was used for early industries. The Museum is managed by the Bland District Historical Society Inc and is open from 2pm-5pm daily.

A monumental poppet head and a replica miner's hut – an ode to the gold mining heritage of the area – have been erected in Cooinda Reserve, which is a popular spot with locals and travellers. Park the car and take a leisurely stroll down the West Wyalong Heritage Walk to view the historic buildings and picturesque surrounds that the Bland Shire has to offer. The Visitor Information Centre in the Council building will be able to give you all the information you need to explore the cultural offering the Shire has to offer.

Our Indigenous Culture

Wiradjuri people of NSW

The Wiradjuri were the largest language Group in NSW. But is made up of smaller language groups that have different dialects to the groups they boarder with, such as Wiradjuri means “People of the three rivers” these being the Lachlan, Macquarie and Murrumbidgee rivers.

The Wiradjuri people generally moved around in small groups, using the river flats, open lands and waterways with some regularity through the seasons as indicated by debris that has accumulated in these areas

Research shows that there was one basic language used by the Wiradjuri people, however, different smaller sub groups among Wiradjuri speakers had some words that belonged exclusively to their own clan.

Occupation of the land by the Wiradjuri can be seen by modified trees and campsite remainders. Carved trees are more commonly found around the Macquarie and Lachlan rivers. Campsites, which indicate seasonal occupation by small groups, have been found on river flats, open land and by the rivers.

Wiradjuri people moved around the country according to seasonal conditions

The Wiradjuri people cover one of the largest tribal areas in NSW from Nyngan to Albury and from Hay to Bathurst
